The Quote Header Screen allows entry of such information as the customer p.o. #, job name, and special instructions for the quote. The search buttons (magnifying glasses) indicate that there is a lookup available for the shipping address, ship-to state, salesperson, terms, and job name. The beginning and ending dates can also be changed by clicking on the search buttons. To proceed to the line items on the quote, click on the ITEMS button with your mouse or hold down the <Alt> key and hit an <I>.

The line item screen allows the quick adding of new items at the bottom of the screen. After an item has been added, it can be changed by clicking on the line item itself and the next screen will be displayed that allows changes or the entry of comments. Six items are displayed on the screen, but if there are more items on the quote, a scroll bar will appear and the operator can scroll up and down through the items. When the operator has finished entering the items, they hit the <QUOTE OPTIONS> button and are given the options to complete the quote.

DELETED ITEM UPDATE ITEM BACK

This screen allows the operator to make changes for line items on quotes, to view more information concerning the item, or to cancel the item. Each of the buttons from the pull-down box on the right, display a screen with information or allows further action. The inquiries include sales history for this customer and this item, the inventory status of the item (Stock Item Inquiry), and other open quotes for this item (for this customer or all customers). The operator can view and modify the freight or miscellaneous charges, or enter house tag information (used by lighting showrooms). When the operator clicks on [UPDATE], the changes are updated and they are returned to the Line Items screen above.

Quotes – adding items from a grid

When the operator selects the Grid button on the Line Item Screen, they can quickly add many items from a grid. The items displayed in the grid can be for specified manufacturer's, by house part #'s, by customer part #, based on previous sales for this customer or based on most frequent sales for this customer.

The Gross Margin Calculator is available for orders and quotes. It allows the operator to enter a Total Price, or Flat Gross Profit, or Proportionate Gross Profit and then re-calculates the pricing for the items and shows the new parts total, margin and total with tax and freight. The operator can also change the discount, net price, extension, or gross margin for the individual line items.
